Hello everyone!

Firstly, I must apologise for 'Harvest' not being printed this month. This is due to circumstances beyond the fan club's control, and everything will be back to normal next time.

The Wurzels have asked me to thank everyone who sent birthday cards to them; they are most appreciated.

The Wurzels single, 'Wurzel Rap' is available through the fan club (for members who find obtaining it difficult) by sending a BLANK UNCROSSED POSTAL ORDER for £2.00 to the above address.

Everyone I have met at Babbacombe have been thrilled with the show, and all have praise for the boys as to how hard they work on stage. Babbacombe Theatre has been fully booked every night.

RUSTIC REVELLERS

THE WURZELS who made a welcome return to Torbay this season, have lost none of their popularity if the reaction of audiences so far is anything to go by.

The three man band of rustic rollickers began their season at the Babbacombe Theatre in May and will be performing there throughout the season.

The group, best remembered for their 1976 hit records Combine Harvester and Cider Drinker, have not performed regularly in the bay for three years when they appeared with The Bachelors.

They are pleased to be back: "The audiences in Torbay are always a smashing lot," said lead singer Peter Budd.

The Wurzels distinctive mixture of cheeky humour and boisterous originality ensured a great start to their season in the English Riviera.

Peter and his merry men, Tony Bayliss and Tommy Banner, shamelessly encourage audience participation.

Also lending their talents to the show are comedian and compere Gerry Thomas, one man band Bruce Thompson and singer Kimm.

The night out provides well balanced entertainment with the momentum maintained by generous quantities of humour and song.

In between their stage performances the group are appearing at various charity functions, and are a feature of the Bay's high season.

The Wurzels have recently released a new single, Wurzel Rap, and a new LP, Freshly Cut.

Left: an article from a free newspaper in circulation in Torbay, (members will undoubtedly find funny the line - "Peter and his merry men").

That's all the news for now. Hope to see more of you at Babbacombe during September.

Yours Wurzelly,
